

In Focus: Grades 6–8

Literature Activity

In the story, look for short passages that have conflict between two characters. Depict this conflict by writing it out as play dialogue. You will have the chance to read your lines with expression and act them out. The audience will reflect on how the characters dealt with conflict and whether they agree with the characters' approach to the conflict. Then the audience will brainstorm alternative solutions to the conflict and act them out.
